

Original title: Me Abraça

HUG ME - version Paulo Coelho

I want you Like the earth wants the sun that gives it life
I wait for you like the garden waits for the flower in spring Hug me and forget about what's happening, who's right Kiss me because I need to have you around always

I love you
Like a poeta loves his verse Like the star loves the universe and like the flowers love the wind What does it matter the useless pride of being right outside the street is empty I love you ... I love you ...
It's just a moment

Your eyes caress me in their sleeping silence
Your body makes me think that I'll never be alone again
With each kiss your lips tell me that you are mine Hold me, and stay one more minute, just a little bit
